

WSÁNEĆ Marine Use Plan Engagement Survey

What's this about?

The WSÁNEĆ Leadership Council is working on to establish a Marine Use Plan for the WSÁNEĆ people that will help guide us under a unified vision for the marine environment and the WSÁNEĆ way of life. It will help identify appropriate strategies to assert and affirm WSÁNEĆ authority and presence throughout the territory. This is a multi-year (5+) initiative that will identify community goals and priorities to help guide the WSÁNEĆ Leadership Council in decision making regarding Douglas Treaty Rights, Aboriginal Rights and title, and appropriate strategies to assert and affirm WSÁNEĆ authority and presence throughout the territory.

The plan is community based, community driven, and will reflect who we are as WSÁNEĆ people with cultural teachings and WSÁNEĆ law embedded. Therefore, we need your input to be involved in participatory decision-making processes regarding issues that directly impact your life and your family's lives for future generation! Please fill out the survey to express your opinions on the future of marine and land use planning for the WSÁNEĆ people.

What is a Marine Use Plan?

A Marine and Land Use Plan is a tool that communities can use to better plan for their future. The purpose is to make a territory wide marine and land use plan to address some of the issues and concerns community members have on how the land and sea are being used. The Department of Fisheries (DFO) is in the early stages of doing their own regional (Southern Coast of BC) marine spatial plan, and so we need to develop our own community-based plan that identifies community priorities on how we think the marine and lands in the Salish Sea should be used/not used. This way, we can ensure our values are incorporated and that appropriate measures are put into place so that our Douglas Treaty and Indigenous rights are respected.

We have a sacred responsibility to take care of the land of water and so we should have more of a say on what happens in our territory. Developing this marine and land use plan for our territory is a useful tool to help us do that.

Below is a map of the territory the Marine Use Plan would encompass.
